At Roecliffe C of E Primary School, we strive for all children to achieve their full potential and have high aspirations for their futures.

Our school values consist of Faith, Courage and Love. We combine these values with our five Roecliffe Positive Learning Behaviours (Active participant, independence and responsibility, resilience, working positively with others and challenging ourselves) to help develop our children into caring and compassionate learners who have positive attitudes towards their learning.

We believe that EYFS (Early Years Foundation Stage) is a crucial stage in a child's development so we endeavour to develop the best foundations for successful learning from the very beginning of their time with us.

Our Aims of our EYFS Provision

- To provide children with a rich and engaging curriculum that sparks curiosity and helps them develop a love of learning;
- To offer a warm and welcoming environment, equipped with well-trained staff, to ensure children feel happy, safe and secure enough to take risks within their learning and play;
- To provide a stimulating and creative learning environment so children are able to further their learning experiences through their play;
- To encourage children to build up their confidence and independence within an environment that supports this;
- To promote the social, emotional, physical, spiritual and intellectual development of every child;
- To prepare children for a successful transition into Year 1 and for those positive learning behaviours to continue into their future learning.

Statutory Requirements

The EYFS Statutory Framework (2021) states that learning and development requirements comprise:

- the seven areas of learning and development and the educational programmes (described below)
- the early learning goals, which summarise the knowledge, skills and understanding that all young children should have gained by the end of the reception year
- the assessment requirements (when and how practitioners must assess children's achievements, and when and how they should discuss children's progress with parents and/or carers)

There are seven areas of learning and development that must shape educational programmes in early years settings. All areas of learning and development are important and inter-connected.

Three areas are particularly important for building a foundation for igniting children's curiosity and enthusiasm for learning, forming relationships and thriving. These are the prime areas:

- communication and language
- physical development
- personal, social and emotional development

Providers must also support children in four specific areas, through which the three prime areas are strengthened and applied. The specific areas are:

- literacy
- mathematics
- understanding the world
- expressive arts and design

In planning and guiding what children learn, practitioners must reflect on the different rates at which children are developing and adjust their practice appropriately. Three characteristics of effective teaching and learning are:

- playing and exploring - children investigate and experience things, and 'have a go'
- active learning - children concentrate and keep on trying if they encounter difficulties, and enjoy achievements
- creating and thinking critically - children have and develop their own ideas, make links between ideas, and develop strategies for doing things

At Roecliffe we promote these characteristics through our positive behaviours for learning, observations and interactions with adults within the areas of provision.

The Curriculum at Roecliffe C of E Primary School

Children joining Roecliffe C of E have already learnt a great deal and have already started their journey through the early years. Some have attended our own nursery, at least part time, and others from surrounding nurseries and childcare settings. We acknowledge their learning and experiences they have had so far and build on what they already know and can do.

At Roecliffe we ensure that no child is excluded or disadvantaged and we offer a curriculum, activities and learning opportunities that match the needs of young children, indoors and outdoors.

We provide a rich and ambitious curriculum that stimulates and encourages a love for learning. At Roecliffe, we have adopted The Cornerstones Curriculum. It is used each half term and contains engaging topics which children are encouraged to explore deeper into. The information for these sessions are adult-led and then the children are given the opportunity to further their learning in the areas of provision (through play based learning). Adults play alongside children asking open ended questions to promote deeper thinking and high quality conversations.

Phonics (early reading and writing) is taught through a scheme called 'Little Wandle'. It provides well thought out lessons and gives children the opportunity to come back to their previous learning on a daily basis. Once children can confidently blend sounds to read words, they will be part of a guided reading group. This group will read three times a week with a Little Wandle trained Teacher or TA. These lessons will have the focus on decoding, prosody and comprehension. Children will also be sent home with a book which matches the learning they have previously done in school. Children who are at risk of falling behind will be given interventions straight away. These will be planned by a teacher and reviewed in three weeks to assess the progress made.

Little Wandle also supports the development of writing. Once children have learnt enough sounds to create a word (S, A, T, P, I, N) they practise segmenting words to write down the sounds.

We strive to ensure that all children have a smooth transition into Year 1 being able to read and write simple sentences.

For maths, we follow the White Rose Scheme and incorporate Number Blocks where it is appropriate. The White Rose Scheme offers lots of different ways in which maths can be represented. Children are encouraged to use lots of practical resources to help them understand abstract concepts. Children are also encouraged to think about how they have retrieved their answer and why they think that. Maths talk is very beneficial and allows children to share and speak through their thought processes.

Assessment and Observation

Within EYFS, assessment is a key tool to help track the progress of children in Nursery and Reception. At Roecliffe we use an online learning journey called 'Tapestry'. Parents and carers have access to their online profile and are encouraged to add to it. This helps us to develop a bigger picture of the child and to create conversations about the types of activities they get involved in outside of school. These assessments enable us to make informed decisions for each child and this is tracked termly on our school's internal tracker to show how the children are progressing and developing across the seven areas of learning. This information will then be discussed with the Headteacher at pupil progress meetings, where we look at the impact of teaching and learning, to ensure every child is achieving their full potential.

The class teacher will have regular communication with parents and carers and will offer advice and support wherever necessary.

The EYFS Framework states that Development Matters is a non-statutory curriculum guidance for the EYFS and it is available to support providers in their delivery of the EYFS learning and development requirements. At Roecliffe, we use Development Matters to help form our judgments of pupils' progress.

At the end of Reception, an EYFS Profile is complete for each child. This provides parents/carers and teachers with a well-rounded picture of a child's knowledge, understanding and attainment within each of the seven areas of learning. The class teacher will assess whether the children are meeting expected levels of development or still need some support to reach these expected levels. These will be indicated as 'expected' or 'emerging'. This will help to provide a smooth transition into Year 1 and allow children to have the support they need.

Characteristics of Effective Teaching and Learning

Within the EYFS framework, there are characteristics of effective learning. These are reflected on to help plan what the children learn. There are three characteristics of effective learning, which are:

- Playing and Exploring - Children investigate and experience things and events around them, and 'have a go'
- Active learning - children concentrate and keep on trying if they encounter difficulties, and enjoy achievements
- Creating and thinking critically - children have and develop their own ideas, make links between ideas, and develop strategies for doing things

These are assessed and encouraged through observations and high quality interactions between staff and children.

Roles and Responsibilities

Who?	How can they help?
Governors	The governors have been involved in developing the school's EYFS policy. This will be reviewed regularly to ensure any changes are made. The EYFS governor will come and monitor EYFS to ensure the quality of teaching and learning is having a positive impact on the children's development.
EYFS Leader	The EYFS leader will review and monitor the teaching and learning and environment to ensure it is of high quality. They will keep up-to-date of any new development, guidance and resources and will inform staff about them. They will also report to the Headteacher and inform them of the development in EYFS.
Teaching and Support Staff	The teaching and support staff will work together as a team to provide high quality and effective teaching and learning. They will help to create a positive, engaging and stimulating environment which reflects the learning across the prime and specific areas of learning.
Parents and Carers	Parents and carers have a significant role in supporting their child through the early years. We recognise them as their child's first and most enduring educators. We promote a positive relationship with parents by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• encouraging them to contribute towards their child's online learning journey. This helps to create a bigger picture of the child;• Keeping parents up-to-date with what is going on in school, this can be through newsletters, Tapestry and the website;

Safeguarding and Health and Safety

At Roecliffe Primary School, we take all the necessary steps to ensure children are safe and happy in our care. All staff in EYFS are required to read our safeguarding policy alongside the DFE document 'Keeping Children Safe in Education, 2021'. Mrs Briggs, our headteacher, is the Designated Safeguarding Lead, and all concerns are reported to her.

We follow the whole school procedures for reporting accidents and keep in touch with parents/carers regularly to inform them of any accidents that happened at school.

We have a first aid box within our EYFS area. The only medicine that can be administered at school is ones prescribed to a child by a doctor, dentist, nurse or pharmacist.
